KAUFF BRINGS SUIT

Gets Temporary Injunction Against Judge Landis, John Heydler and the Giants.

SHOW CAUSE TO-MORROW

'Am Just as Much of a Gentleman as This Man Landis,' Says Benny.

The first formal attempt to dispute he authority of Judge Kenesaw Mounny Kauff, erstwhile outfielder for the from Justice Wasservogel in the Su-he injunction, which was obtained Kauff by Emil E. Fuchs, attorney of Chambers street, is directed to the Meanwhile the Pirates, besides the New York games, have five contests as the New York National League baseball club; John Heydler, president of the National League, and Judge Landis. It directs the defendants to show cause in Part 1, Special Term, to-morrow why they should not be restrained from interfering with Kauff in carrying out his contract with the Giants, pending the trial of the suit, which is for a permanent injunction.

Meanwhile the Pirates, besides the New York games, have five contests with the Braves, three with Brooklyn and four with Philadelphia—all at home. But, then, they must play the dangerous Cardinals five games at St. Louis. It is some race.

Mr. Fuchs said at his office that since Kauff was suspended from organized haseball, following his indictment on a charge of receiving stolen automobiles, he had tried to get Judge Landis to reconsider his decision. He declared that, despite the fact that Kauff was acquitted by a jury, the suspension is still in force. It was represented to Kauff, Mr. Fuchs said, that he would not be reinstated because he had admitted on the witness.

"I say," says Kauff in his complaint, "that I am every inch as much of a gentleman, and have as high a sense of athics and character as this man Landis, who has no standing so far as I am concerned, and who has maliciously and cunningly conspired to further his position at my expense without regard to conscience, standing or duty."

Kauff in his complaint hise says it is unfair to compare his case with that against the "traitors of the 1918 world's series."

Greb Here for Bout.

BY WALTER TRUMBULL S

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Herald. The Giants lead the league again;

They're cutting out the pace. The fans rejoice to see them back In their accustomed place.

And shown they've met the Eastern test,
And shown they have the power,
We trust they'll gallop through the West
At ninety miles an hour.

THE BIG ACT.

comes the big act. Full in the spotlight stands the beautiful Miss Victoria Pennant, gazing with wide, innocent eyes over the crowded house and estimating the world's series receipts. From out the shadows of the wings flerce, black bearded Pirates are creeping toward the lovely heroine, malevolent grins cut by the dirks gripped in their teeth. Off stage can be heard the racing patter of the feet of the Giant hero. Will he arrive in time? Breathless with the tension of suspense, the fans sit on the edge of their chairs in an almost hysterical condition. If you thought The Bat was a thrilling mystery you should see this one entitled The Pitcher.

New York Giants, obtained an injunction but if the New York hurlers can come through the Giants should return from Justice Wasservogel in the Subreme Court which, on its face, requires isn't going to be any joy ride. Beginning to-day in Cincinnati, the Giants must fight every step of the way. Three games with the Reds, three with Pittsburgh, two games with the Cubs and three battles with the Cardinals. These will furnish the answer. After they come home McGraw's men have a game with Boston, one with Brooklyn and two with the Phillies, but they are apt to stand or fall by what they accomplish on the road.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Fifty-two candidates reported to-day to Head Coach Gilmour Dobie of the Cornell varsity football team for the first practice of the season. This number is expected to be considerably increased by to-morrow when several members of the 1920 squad and last season's freshman eleven are expected to appear.

Coach Dobie with his assistants, Ray Hunt, Clyde Mayer, captain of the 1920 team and Paul Eckley, former all-American end and graduate coach on preliminaries. In the morning session the squad was given a brief talk by Coach Dobie on plans for the season and then taken to the field where limbering up exercises constituted the practice.

At the afternoon session Dobie gave the team an intensive drill in the fundamentals of the game. With the opening of the Cornell season less than three weeks away he is anxious to get the squad hard at work and plans to hold serimmage practice by the end of the cornell season less than three weeks away he is anxious to get the squad hard at work and plans to hold serimmage practice by the end of CAPE MAY, N. J., Sept. 12.—Penn's tootball squad was increased to-day when several players were promoted from the Franklin Field coterie and arrived late this afternoon. They included Quigley, Sullivan, McMullin, Kram, Rosenast, Armstrong and Williams. The men immediately jumped into toos and joined Head Coach Helsman's squad in a spirited drill. Hobey Light has joined the coaching staff.

Dr. Garnett, a former Penn star, took some of the players deep sea fishing. Cochran, the Nogales Arizona guard, caught a stingaree weighing more than one hundred pounds. Gig Genthner, the Brooklyn boy, puiled in a small shark. The catch included a half barrel of weakfish.
